

CAMP NERINGA, INC.

PERSONNEL POLICIES

Mission statement

Camp Neringa is rooted in the charism and mission of the Sisters of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the founders of the Camp Neringa.

Camp Neringa provides for a religious, educational, and cultural experience for children, youth, and families. Its Mission is to provide for an experience with a special focus on the Catholic tradition, Lithuanian culture, and personal development for various age groups. Each session creates educational opportunities not only for leadership skill development, but also provides an experience of community (vs anonymity), cooperation (vs competition) and creativity (vs passivity), attributes often missing in our everyday surroundings.

Camp Neringa is a bilingual non-profit organization, functioning in a Christian and Lithuanian cultural atmosphere.

A unique spirit flows through Camp Neringa. A spirit that fuels creativity, encourages personal development, helps discover individual skills and inspires spiritual growth. The spirit of Neringa challenges individuals to foster group cooperation and community. Its natural setting in the southern Vermont hills helps to focus on spirituality and foster essential values, with minimal use of technology and away from the encumbrances of city life. A greater understanding of one's ethnic heritage strengthens every one's personal identity.

INTRODUCTION

Camp Neringa was founded by the Sisters of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. In 1936 five Sisters from Lithuania came to establish their community in the USA. In 1943 they accepted seven girls to spend their summer vacation at the Sisters' residence at Villa Maria in Thompson, CT and an idea was born. The following year, the Sisters organized the first summer camp and 55 girls came to their convent grounds in Putnam, CT. This was the beginning of Camp Immaculata.

After 25 summers in Putnam, with over 100 girls in attendance, the Sisters purchased an abandoned camp ground in Marlboro, VT and relocated Camp Immaculata. Retaining some old cabins, they built new facilities designed for camp purposes: cabins for campers, shower houses, and the main lodge. Later, they added the pavilion, infirmary, caretaker's home, chapel and Sisters' residence.

The new site in Vermont was named Camp Neringa. In 1970 the first summer session for Lithuanian speaking girls took place, as did the first Lithuanian heritage session for English speaking boys and girls. Through the years: Lithuanian speaking boys, students, families, and adult special interest in art and poetry (Meno8Dienos) camp sessions were all added. The sessions also varied: segregated boys and girls camps became co-ed sessions, and a third week was added to both children's sessions because the demand for being at Neringa was so great. Thus, the entire summer is now filled - sessions start at the end of June and continue to the end of August.

In 1996 Neringa was incorporated as Neringa, Inc., a Connecticut corporation operating in Vermont. In 2016 a new corporation registered in Vermont was inaugurated, Camp Neringa, Inc.

An integral part of Camp Neringa is the dedicated staff and counselors. They are the role models for the campers through their leadership, friendship, compassion, selflessness, sharing of talents and skills, loyalty, values and morale. This is equally important as was the Sisters' efficiency and dedication.

Given the changes in society, Camp Neringa has also become a place where being counter-cultural is natural:

- faith values are espoused by incorporating an awareness of God's existence vs promoting a life without norms;
- the importance of ecology is acknowledged by employing recycling, using/reusing inventory, respecting and maintaining order and cleanliness, and avoiding waste;
- consumerism is replaced with creativity rather than purchasing ready-made consumer goods;
- the beauty of character is emphasized rather than focusing on the physical;
- the significance of community, family and otherness is encouraged rather than the selfie culture;
- respect for others, camp property, the camp's natural environment and surroundings, and the camp's neighbors is conveyed.

No matter what your duties, no matter how directly or indirectly you are involved with campers; we hope you will find it satisfying to join with others in this common effort.

This policy is prepared for your information to guide you in your work. You will be given further directions concerning the details of your work, most notably in your job description and any supplemental rules and guidelines as provided by the Executive Director.

Your generous cooperation and dedicated services are deeply appreciated.

ORGANIZATIONAL PLAN - Camp Neringa, Inc.

Members:

The highest level of Camp Neringa, Inc. is the individuals who have an avid interest in Neringa, pay annual dues and by so doing are Members of the corporation. The Members have an annual meeting during which they review the camp's activities and elect a Board of Directors.

Board of Directors:

The Board of Directors manages and controls the business affairs of Camp Neringa, Inc. and performs its duties according to the By-laws of Camp Neringa, Inc. They appoint the Executive Director, Assistant Executive Director and Resident Manager, develop long-range plans, review the camp's activities, analyze budget reports and seek ways to implement the Mission of Camp Neringa.

Administration:

The administration is comprised of the Executive Director and the Assistant Director in a year round capacity. The Executive Director is directly responsible to the Board for everyday operations for the performance of all staff members and is assisted by the Assistant Executive Director – each according to their respective job description. During the camp season, the Summer Manager also acts as part of the camp administration and acts on behalf of the Executive and Assistant Director during their absence. The Summer Manager is responsible to the Executive Director and works in co-operation with the Program Coordinator, Head Cook, and Resident Manager according to his/her job description.

Summer Camp Staff:

The responsibilities at camp are managed by four leadership roles: Program Coordinator, Summer Manager, Head Cook, and Resident Manager. These individuals are directly responsible to the Executive Director. Counselors/Instructors, Counselors-in-Training (CITs), and Volunteers are directly responsible to the Program Coordinator according to their job descriptions.

All problems relating to your duties should be first brought to the attention of the person immediately responsible for your position. You are free to consult the Executive or Assistant Director in any matter you consider important.

TYPES OF EMPLOYMENT

Since Camp operates seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day, work time must be scheduled to provide full-time coverage. There are two types of compensated workers: independent contractors, who are compensated at the close of the term, and salaried or waged employees, compensated bi-weekly.

In addition to the paid staff members, there are CIT's who are not compensated monetarily, but receive on the job counselor training, and volunteers, who donate their time and provide services according to their interest, expertise, and the needs of the Camp.

Application for work

All staff is hired and all volunteers are accepted by the Executive Director. Applicants are hired on the basis of experience, training, personal background, Camp needs, and the potential for growth within the Camp. Staff may sometimes be required to perform tasks of additional duties that differ from what is listed in their job descriptions. The specific qualifications for service at Camp Neringa may require fluency in Lithuanian language and culture, as well as a commitment to upholding Roman Catholic values.

All staff members and volunteers have to submit to a criminal background check (every four years) and complete the "Safe and Sacred" program. Each hired staff member and volunteer must sign an agreement or contract for job responsibilities (outlined in your job description) as well as an acknowledgment of intent to uphold Neringa's Mission and these Policies. A health form is requested from all staff members to facilitate assistance in emergencies.

BENEFITS

Employees, CIT's and volunteers receive free lodging and meals every day.

All employees are covered by workers' compensation in accordance with state law requirements. This covers on-job accidents only. Therefore, it is extremely important for you to remember that you must report any accident to the Executive or Assistant Director at once. If you are in need of first aid, ask the camp medical counselor to assist you. Camp Neringa does not provide health insurance or compensation for non-employment-related medical treatment.

GENERAL AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Respect, good manners, simple human consideration, competence in your work, and co-operation all combine to make campers and staff feel comfortable, and create a welcoming atmosphere.

Confidentiality is of utmost importance when you have received privileged information regarding a camper or staff member. Do not reveal private data (e.g. family situation, health problems, etc.) about campers to other campers or outsiders, as such information is of a confidential nature. Only the Executive or Assistant Director, camp medical supervisor, or Program Coordinator should be informed about any behavioral, medical or other such problems. Because of stringent privacy laws, no one is permitted to post photos which include pictures of campers on social media (e.g., Facebook, Instagram) without the permission of the child's parents.

Safety

All unsafe conditions should be reported to the Executive or Assistant Director or Summer Manager immediately to prevent accidents to campers, staff, or visitors.

First aid for staff members as well as campers is available from the medical counselor. For serious medical emergencies, dial 911. Various staff members (including the Executive Director, Assistant Executive Director, and any counselors identified during orientation) are certified for CPR and to use the automated external defibrillator (AED) (mounted on the kitchen wall). These first responders should be located immediately in the case of a medical emergency on site to assist until an ambulance arrives.

An emergency and disaster plan is presented to each staff member and posted in the dining room. Carefully note the locations of fire alarms and extinguishers.

Any strangers on the grounds should be referred to the appropriate supervising staff member immediately. In the case of unwanted intruders on camp grounds, immediately refer the situation to the Summer Manager, Resident Manager or any other person in the administration. If necessary, dial 911.

Please use common sense at the waterfront. Do not swim alone. Minor campers are never allowed to the waterfront unaccompanied by a counselor. For emergency assistance during scheduled swimming times, refer to the lifeguard on duty.

Child safety is a paramount concern at Neringa. Staff members should always be aware of the whereabouts of the children in their care.

Incidents relating to suspected abuse and neglect, security, property loss or damage, fire protection deficiencies, equipment and utility malfunction, or other suspected problems should be reported to the Administrators to be investigated and corrected in a timely manner.

While every precaution is made to protect the personal property of staff, Neringa assumes no responsibility if personal property is lost, damaged or destroyed.

There shall be no vending or soliciting at Camp Neringa or on its grounds without permission of the Executive Director.

Harassment

Neringa respects the rights and dignity of our staff and campers and makes every effort to maintain a workplace and environment free from harassment, including physical, verbal, or psychological abuse. We uphold laws regarding sexual harassment, which may include verbal or physical contact of a sexual nature when such conduct creates an intimidating environment, and prevents an individual from effectively performing the duties of their position. Sexual harassment is illegal. Individuals who engage in acts of sexual harassment may also be subject to civil and criminal penalties (Title VII of the civil rights act of 1964, Vermont laws; see the Vermont Fair Employment Practices Act).

Definitions.

Acts of violence: fighting, hitting, slapping, kicking, biting, pushing, shaking, striking, or any other physical act of aggression that may cause harm to another.

Act of harassment: being rude, condescending, swearing, demeaning another person's character, using telephone, mail, facsimile or computer network to cause annoyance or alarm to another person, or any other improper behavior, which in management's opinion is disruptive or threatening.

Examples of sexual harassment include, but are not limited to the following: unwelcome sexual advance, verbal or physical contact of sexual nature, request for sexual favors, touching or grabbing a sexual part or individual's body, unwanted hugs, kisses, sexual jokes and banter, pornographic drawings, offensive literature, indecent exposure, or any improper behavior which is abusive, disruptive and shows disrespect towards the other. Retaliation of any kind for having filed or supported a complaint of sexual harassment (e.g. ostracizing the person, or pressuring the person to drop the complaint) will not be tolerated.

If you feel that you have experienced harassment, report the incident immediately to any person in management with whom you feel comfortable. Any person, who becomes aware of an incident of harassment, whether by witnessing the incident or being told of it, must report it immediately to the Executive Director (978-582-5592, regina@neringa.org) or Assistant Executive Director (dana@neringa.org). You may also contact the State of Vermont Attorney General's Office, 109 State Street, Montpelier, VT 05602 (888-745-9195 or 802-828-3665).

Management will promptly, thoroughly, and confidentially investigate each complaint. If an allegation of sexual harassment is found to be credible, management will take appropriate corrective action on all confirmed violations of this policy, up to and including discharge.

All staff has to complete the "Virtus" program and adhere to its directives. In the case of sexual harassment of a minor, management will inform the minor's family and report the incident to the Vermont Department for Children and Families.

As mandated in the state of Vermont, Neringa workers must report any minor's report of abuse (whether it happened on Neringa grounds or not) as well as cases of suspected abuse to the Vermont Department for Children and Families. Camp management will facilitate mandated reports.

Neringa will not tolerate any acts of violence, threats of harm or harassment, and will take whatever actions it deems necessary to protect campers, counselors, and staff from all physical, verbal, or psychological abuse. Neringa is committed to providing an educational environment and workplace free from unlawful conduct.

Use of Alcohol, Drugs, and Smoking

Vermont law prohibits alcohol consumption by anyone under the age of 21. During the children's camp sessions Camp Neringa is alcohol-free.

The use of illegal drugs is strictly prohibited at all times; Neringa is a drug-free work place.

Staff may smoke only in the work shed and never in the presence of children. Smoking is not allowed in any other buildings nor anywhere else on the grounds.

COMMUNICATIONS

We encourage communication and practice an “open door” policy where information can be exchanged freely, and issues and concerns may be raised. If you have any questions or problems concerning your work, or if you have any good suggestions, discuss this with the Executive or Assistant Director or Program Coordinator. Address questions about policies or compensation directly to the Executive Director.

JOB PERFORMANCE REVIEW

We maintain a job description for each position in Camp and we inform all staff of their duties and responsibilities. At the end of the contracted time each staff member is evaluated in light of Camp Neringa’s Mission, the specific job description, and adherence to these Policies. The Program Coordinator, together with the Executive or Assistant Director, verbally evaluates your performance at the end of the camp session.

Grievance procedures

It is the policy of Neringa to identify and correct the causes of any dissatisfaction, which may arise out of the working conditions. We want to assure that everyone receives fair and equitable treatment. All written grievances are confidential. If you have a grievance or a dissatisfaction, bring it to the attention of the Program Coordinator or Camp Director who will review, assess and resolve the situation as possible.

Disciplinary action

Disciplinary action may be used for infractions of policies and regulations or for poor performance. These may include: counseling, reprimand, verbal and/or written warning, withholding or reduction of payment, suspension, and discharge.

The Administration will review all pertinent facts, and the staff member will be given an opportunity to explain his or her conduct before any decision is reached.

If satisfactory change in behavior and/or work performance does not occur immediately, your employment may be terminated. Some incidents may result in immediate termination without prior disciplinary action.

VISITORS; TELEPHONE, INTERNET, AND ELECTRONIC DEVICE USE

Counselors and other personnel may not receive visitors at Camp without prior approval of the Executive or Assistant Director or Summer Manager.

Private telephone conversations and computer/internet use should not take place during program hours and should be away from campers.

Before camp, campers and parents are informed of Neringa’s No Electronics rule – “Electronic devices like cell phones, laptops or videogames are not allowed at camp. Music devices can be brought only for use during the program.” Counselors and other personnel may only use electronic devices outside of program hours, away from campers, and in a way that does not interfere with the spirit of Neringa’s No Electronics rule for campers.
